Don't forget to go to the Auditorium tonight, to see the great Broom Ball game, Winchester versus Lexington.

Mrs. Gus Brooks will entertain the Bridge Club, Saturday.

Mr. Tom Hampton will entertain the Bridge Club, Thursday evening.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will have a sale at Kidwell's Drug Store, Friday morning 8:30 o'clock. They will have all kinds of fancy work, candies and eatables. Here is a chance to get some beautiful presents.

Mrs. Kohlhas Entertains.

Mrs. George Kohlhas entertained in a most attractive way at "forty-two," Tuesday afternoon and evening. The lower part of the house was thrown open for the guests, and beautifully decorated in ferns, palms and all kinds of potted plants. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Gus Brooks, Mrs. Russ Brown and Mrs. Ogden Crutcher, received the guests in the hall, in a very charming manner.

The progressions were marked by Mrs. Gus Brooks and Miss Alice Calmes, who also assisted in dispensing many little pleasures for the enjoyment of the guests.

At the end of the games, a most delightful menu was served, and greatly relished. Both in the afternoon and evening, eleven tables were served. The occasion was a brilliant success in every detail.

Master Arthur Bloomfield delightfully entertained a number of his playmates at a box party at "The Devil," Tuesday night. At the close of the performance, they adjourned to his home on Lexington avenue, where a delightful repast was served.

OPERA HOUSE

The plot of the play given at the Opera House Tuesday night under the title of "The Devil" was not a new one, but the manner of presentation was rather unique, to say the least of it.

A young artist rapidly gaining a name and fame, was in love with the young wife of another man. The husband, all unsuspecting, induced his wife to sit for her portrait.

"The Devil," a cynical, polished "gentleman," by insinuations and suggestions, fanned into a flame the smoldering love of the young people.

The cast of characters was a good one, and the play itself was considered by all a great success.

Mr. Dinelli is a hustling manager for our Opera House, and his efforts should be encouraged by large and appreciative audiences.

Ralph Lane Honored.

The following clipping from a Murfreesboro, Tenn., paper, will be of interest to many of our people:

"At a meeting of the Athletic Association of Mooney School, Ralph Lane, half back of this year's team, was elected Captain of the team of 1909. Lane was one of the best men on this year's team, and was one of the greatest ground gainers on the team."

WARRANTS FOR NOTED FEUDIST AND HIS CLAN

Ed. Callahan Faction Charged With Shooting Constable Rash Sebastian.

JACKSON, Ky., Dec. 16.—Warrants were issued yesterday for the arrest of Ed. Callahan, the noted feudist, and ten of his followers, charging them with banding themselves together and shooting Rash Sebastian several days ago. It is claimed by Sebastian and his friends that they were fired on while passing the home of Callahan, in company with Willie Deaton, son of James Deaton, who was killed by Callahan and others several years ago near the mouth of Long's creek for which killing Callahan and others were tried in the Breathitt Circuit Court and acquitted.

The firing was done by persons concealed in Callahan's barn. Sebastian was shot in the shoulder and is not expected to live. A mule rode by Willie Deaton was instantly killed. Sebastian and his friends ran up the creek in an attempt to escape, but were fired on again by Callahan's henchmen, who followed them, using steel ball rifles of the latest model.

It is reported here that as Sebastian and his friends passed the home of Lee Bowling, a brother-in-law of Ed. Callahan, that some of Bowling's family or some one then 'phoned to Callahan telling him that his old enemy, Willie Deaton, was coming that way, and that several persons were with him, from which news it is thought that Callahan placed his men in readiness.

It is alleged that on the day of the regular November election, Callahan appeared on the ground by daylight with a wagonload of boxed Winchester and steel ball rifles covered with hay, and announced that the votes could be voted as they pleased, but that he would count them. The good citizens were much alarmed and appealed to citizens of adjoining precincts and into the lower edge of Perry county to come and help to protect the polls, and thus prevented any serious trouble.

Since that time Callahan has kept several armed men around him and, it is alleged, is operating a blind tiger in his store.

Ira Cornett, a citizen carrying medicine to Sebastian, the wounded man, was fired upon near Callahan's house. Great excitement exists throughout the county, and more trouble is feared. Callahan's home, the scene of all this trouble, is located at Crockettville near the mouth of Long's creek, twenty-three miles from Jackson and near the Perry county line. Sebastian, the wounded man, is Constable of Breathitt county and a good citizen.

WHARTON—WILLIAMS.

MT. STERLING, Ky., Dec. 16.—Mr. Henry M. Williams, of Orange, N. J., and Mrs. Tannie Wharton, of this city, were married here. Mr. Williams is a wealthy Englishman, while Mrs. Wharton is one of the most attractive young women in Central Kentucky.
